ABOUT HOSPICE

Warrnambool & District Community Hospice is powered by volunteers and the generosity of the community. We support the provision of end of life care at home by working to strengthen informal care networks, provide greater support to those caring for someone with a life limiting illness and build awareness around end of life care and planning.

THANK YOU

Thank you for your interest in supporting Warrnambool & District Community Hospice. Should you decide to make a bequest, please let us know. It is important we have the opportunity to show our appreciation and keep you informed.

We promise to provide anonymity when requested and we respect your right to change your Will at a later date.

A GIFT IN YOUR WILL CAN HELP MORE PEOPLE SPEND THEIR FINAL DAYS IN THE COMFORT OF HOME

Most people with a terminal or life limiting illness would prefer to die at home - but very few get their wish. About 80% of people spend their last moments away from the comforts of home.

Warrnambool & District Community Hospice was established to address this issue and give local families the knowledge and support they need to be successful in their quest to provide end of life care at home.

Our Hospice in the Home program and the support of trained volunteers has helped hundreds of local people be successfully cared for at home and experience greater quality of life, as it nears the end.

As a volunteer-based organisation providing its services for free, Hospice relies on the generosity of the community. Bequests and other donations enable us to reach and support more people, while also reducing the burden on local healthcare services.

YOUR GIFT, YOUR LEGACY

You may wish to support Hospice with a bequest because you have a personal connection to the organisation or because you value the work we do. Either way, your gift will create an enduring legacy reflecting your values and generosity.

Every bequest, large or small will help safeguard the future of Hospice while ensuring the organisation expands and evolves to meet the needs of the community.

If there is a particular area of our work that is meaningful for you, we would be happy to discuss options for a specific bequest.

YOUR WILL

Your Will is an important expression of your final wishes and we strongly encourage you to seek appropriate legal and financial advice when deciding to include a gift for Hospice.

There are several types of bequests to consider including;

- The whole or a percentage of your estate
- A specified dollar amount
- The whole or a percentage of the residue of your estate
